

1992 Prague, Czechoslovakia

“Democratic Evolution in Education”

CONCLUSIONS

School Reform Commissions are needed in the former communist countries.

Demand of responsibility of the European governments for the refugees from the former Yugoslavia.

IUSDT calls upon the Socialist International and the socialist parties to involve themselves much more closely with education.

Democratisation of the education system and combatting discrimination and marginalisation require:

- Equality of opportunities at all levels
- Gender equality in all types of education
- Choice of study according to aptitude and interests
- Integration of special needs into mainstream education

The SI must make every effort to eliminate the twin scourges of child labour and illiteracy.

We urge teachers to make themselves aware of the needs of students, particularly the disadvantaged, and be prepared to act as facilitators and to formulate policies for the advancement of their education.